

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I am a middle schooler from Piedmont Middle School I am 13 and in 7th grade. I want to help as much as I can with the major problem of sea level rise. I am in a Green Team class we are being taught by my teacher Mr. White he teaches us about how we can help stop the problems with amounts of greenhouse gasses being released into the air. I am very aware of how humans have created global warming and how the problem of rise is mainly affected by oil.

My teacher has asked my class to pick which ways that we recommend that you can help with sea level rise then write a letter to the California Coastal Commission. My first recommendation for the California Coastal Commission to take is Preserving Open Space I recommend this because it can help protect the wild and can help reduce green house grasses. I also recommend the stormwater management I recommend this because if we can keep pollutants out of the water then we can keep icebergs there and make sea level lower. I lastly recommend living shorelines because this can yet again help with keeping coastal habitats and thus protecting the shore ecosystems.

From,

Michael Morabito